WHEN PLANE
HITS FIELD

Student Flyer, Kenneth Rister, Nearly Scalped as Ship Crumples

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 24.—Kern Rister, student pilot and former Bakersfield High School football star, was seriously injured when the plane he was flying crashed in a plowed field one mile west of Kern County airport.

The youth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Rister, 1129 Pershing street, his father being head of the commercial department at Kern County Union High School.

The boy had just taken off from the field and was at an altitude of less than 100 feet. Spectators saw the ship "crash" into the ground, slide toward the earth on one wing, and then crashed. He was scalped and his face was a mass of blood from striking the instrument board. Although his condition is serious, the young football player's physical condition gives him more than an even chance of recovery, hospital attendants say.

He had twelve hours' flying experience, and the Airport Manager ordered him to take a break. He was preparing to take a government private pilot's license.

Jury in Trial of ex-Officer Fails to Agree

The jury trying the case of Bert Reynolds, former South Gate police officer, on trial charged with attempted bribery of Ezra Neff, police judge of that city, was unable to reach an agreement and was discharged at 8:30 o'clock last night. Judge W. H. Miller, presiding, said the trial was under way at 9 o'clock last night.

Reynolds is asserted to have offered Judge Neff $100 to dismiss a liquor possession charge against him. The witness for the defense, Bert O. Scott, also of South Gate.

But the witness for the prosecution, and Reynolds in his own defense, denied attempting to bribe the judge and declared that he had called on the court to request a trial by a jury in Scott's bail. The jury was out about four hours.

Pioneer Concern
in Liquidation

FRESNO, Sept. 24.—After five years of continuous operation as a mercantile establishment, in Fresno, the Kutter-Goldstein Company, general merchandising concern, today announced removal from all but the grain and feed business in the San Joaquin Valley. The general merchandise stores of the company, Fresno and San Joaquin, will be closed tomorrow evening and the stocks, aggregating approximately $350,000 in value, will be turned over to other interests to be closed out.

The store was established here in 1884, a family affair by sixty-foot square rooms, and in the interim grew into one of the largest concerns of its kind in this section of the State. The Selma store was established in 1882.

For some time valuable business interests of the Kutter-Goldstein interests have been in process of liquidation, several local parcels having been sold as a part of the movement to centralize various interests, and the debts of Alfred Kutter, present head of the concern, to withdraw from active

BROADWAY PLAN
to be Advanced

Two resolutions advancing the Broadway project were introduced in the City Council yesterday and referred to appropriate committees. Councilman Davis asked the allocation of $350,000 toward the paving and improvement of the stretch between Pico and Forty-first streets, the opening and widening of which already has gone through the courts.

Councilman Henning asked that $50,000 be allocated toward the opening and widening of the road between Ninety-third street and One Hundred Twentieth street, where county territory is.

is the plan of Davis and Henning to construct a major traffic artery from the business district to the harbor.

CANDY KID COPS KHAN OF KABUL

Cinderella Romance Repeats for French Shop Girl

Indian Pleasure-Potentate Plays Prince Charming

Wedding Waits for Mayor to Make Happy Ending

PARIS, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—The bedtime yarn about Cinderella and Prince Charming, or the small-town working girl who grabbed off the daddy de luxe, has just been re-enacted in real life.

The new of the present Prince Charming is played by Aga Khan, since full titles are Aga, Sultan, Sir, Mohamed and Shah—while the Cinderella is an unknown blonde who until a few days ago eked out a living as a clerk in a candy store in the little town of Chambery. And now they are going to get married and live happily ever after.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Aga Khan is one of the best-known part-time citizens of Paris. For several months every year his opulent person graces Ciro's Restaurant, the Ritz Bar and other favorite haunts of the local "Who's Who." The remainder of the time he spends in India, where he is the head of a cult of natives who are known as Ishmael, Mahomedan, and the like.

One of the best racing stables in France and is a constant visitor at the race tracks and smart beach resorts.

The other day he set out in his luxurious automobile for Aix-les-Bains. At Chambery, at darkness, he was compelled to decide to remain overnight. Next morning he went out to purchase a few boxes of candy as presents for his friends at Aix-les-Bains. This decision proved to be the downfall of the chief of the Ismaili Mahomedans, for the blonde who sold the candies was so beautiful that he couldn't tear himself away. He had to be presented to her.

Herubby-to-be is presenting her to his smoky friend at Aix-les-Bains.

The wedding ceremony will take place as soon as the town's Mayor returns from his vacation.

PLEASURE HIS DUTY

The news of the engagement is causing a sensation in Paris, where the portly Aga Khan has gained the reputation of being one of the greatest bachelors in the gay capital.

The Ishmaelitish manager does not interfere with Aga Khan's religious beliefs. For he has gained more than a million followers by establishing one of the merriest cults ever invented. This religion is based on the ancient philosophy of Sufism, a school of Turkish Dervishes who believe that life's pleasures should be indulged in to the limit in order to free the individual from domination by these pleasures.

His work among the natives in India has been recognized by the British government, which has conferred titles upon him.

Trading relations established with the Red Sox, Huggins continued the practice of shopping for players at the Hub, and finally gained title to Waite Hoyt, Harry Harper, Wally Schang, Mike McNally, Joe Bush, Sam Jones, Everett Scott, Elmer Smith, and Dazzy Vance, and Duncie. These recruits from Fenway Park helped Huggins to win three straight pennants in 1921-22-23.

The Yankees had to wait until 1923, the year the stadium was opened, for a world's championship, however.

The Yanks failed to win a fourth straight for Huggins in 1924, and fell all the way to seventh place in 1925. Hug then silenced his critics and cemented his personal reputation as a builder by regaining the top in 1926 to begin a reign of three years. When players he picked from the sand of the minors and developed himself in the Yankee camp.

According to tentative arrangements, funeral services will be conducted at the Church of the Transfiguration, 10 a.m. Friday.

MILLER HUGGINS TAKEN BY DEATH

Baseball World Mourning for Yankee Manager

High Tributes Paid to Him by Leaders in Sport

American League Calls Off Games Tomorrow

the Yankees, Miller Huggins, not only became the first pilot to win six pennants in eight years, but gained fame by developing the greatest of modern National League batsmen, Rogers Hornsby, and later by teaching a lesson to the greatest of all slugs, Babe Ruth, by discipline and a $5000 fine.

Huggins never sought the spotlight. He was content to let Ruth and the rest of his stars monopolize it.

Born in Cincinnati on March 27, 1886, Huggins even as a boy manifested more than an ordinary interest in playing baseball and pondering its problems. In 1899 he began his career in the organized game by signing with Mansfield, O., in the old Interstate League, but played only in a few games.

UPWARD TREK BEGUN

The following season found Huggins a member of the then famous Fleischmann semiprofessional club in the Catawba River valley. He played a major part in starting him along the trail toward major-league stardom. A member of the Fleischmann family, Cincinnati yeast makers, was attracted by the play of the midget infielder, and was instrumental in signing him for St. Paul of the Western League in 1901.

Huggins followed the St. Paul club into the newly organized American Association and remained there through the season of 1903. The Cincinnati Reds purchased Huggins for delivery in the spring of 1904. He was the third of Fleischmann again figuring in the transaction.

The little Miller made good from the start at Cincinnati, where he played at second under the management of Joe Kelly, the former Oriole who later became as stout for Huggins on the Yankees. Huggins again figured in the transaction.

Before the start of the 1910 season Huggins was traded to St. Louis.

In 1912 he reached his greatest batting height with a mark of .304. At the close of the season he was dropped to last place in 1913, but the midget manager amazed the baseball world by making a serious pennant bid in 1914, finally landing third behind the Cardinals and the miracle Braves for the highest finish by any Cardinal club since 1896.

Two indifferent seasons followed, but in 1917 Huggins again crashed the first division with such playing material as the limited team of the Los Angeles club could provide.

One of the factors in his success was an awkward-looking youngster, dug up two seasons earlier by Bob Conroy, the St. Louis scout, who debated long before giving up $500 in cash for the player's release. The name, of course, was Rogers Hornsby.

Huggins had become a shrewd observer throughout baseball by this time, and among his admirers was Byron Bancroft Johnson, president of the American League. Jacob Ruppert, then new in baseball, heard Johnson sing the praises of the St. Louis midget and decided to sign him to manage the Yankees, which pose the little Miller filled for twelve seasons, from 1914 until his death.

The Yankees of 1919 were hardly of championship caliber, even with the purchase of Eddie Collins and the Los Angeles in the first big Boston deal, and the addition of Gari Mays just after midseason in the transaction which nearly disrupted the American League.

Babe Ruth next was purchased from the Red Sox in January, 1920, for $12,500, which remains the highest cash price ever paid for the release of a ball player. The Yanks seemed headed for a flag at last, and, indeed, did lead as late as the middle of September, only to be overtaken at the finish by Cleveland.

NEW SHEARER CLAIMS CITED

Investigators Get Further Light on His "Influence"

First Echoes from Inquiry Heard on Senate Floor

Demand Made for Quiz Into All Lobbying Activities

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—New claims of William B. Shearer to his influence on the fruitless Geneva naval conference of 1927 were laid before a Senate committee today, as it continued tracing payments to him by the battleship builders other than the $25,000 he received for the work done in Geneva.

A letter written to his employers by Shearer a year after the Geneva fiasco was referred to by Senator Allen, Republican of Kansas, who obtained the letter.

"This advance campaign and the accuracy and authenticity data released by me automatically made me leader of the unofficial fight to the extent that the American officials were compelled to yield to me," he said. "I am sure that the result of this attempt to deliver the United States was defeated by a complete expose, which now is acknowledged."

ATTORNEY ON STAND

Henry C. Hunter, counsel for the National Council of American Shipbuilders, who paid off Shearer to the three cruiser manufacturers, testified before the committee today detailing these unrecorded payments. He said he knew nothing about this particular claim of Shearer's, and he did not attach "any significance whatever" to Shearer's other claims.

The committee determined to name Shearer for the first time, next Monday. A recess will be taken after tomorrow until then.

The first reverberations from the inquiry were heard today in the Senate floor, when Black, Democrat of Alabama, renewed the demand for a Senate investigation into all lobbying activities at Washington, as a result of disclosure yesterday of a letter of Shearer detailing his efforts to keep the Senate from voting on the "fifteen-cruiser" bill as "amateurish."

BLACK'S ASSERTION

Senator Black was one of the twelve Senators who voted against the cruiser measure passed last session. He told the Senate this "letter is but another evidence of the recklessness of the bandit-like agents of special privilege seekers."

Hunter said he received Shearer's reports, copied them and sent them to the three shipbuilders who employed him—Clinton L. Bardo, president of the New York Shipbuilding Corporation; Fredrick F. Palen, vice-president of the Newport News Corporation; and Oscar Olson, vice-president of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation. He said he attached no significance to the reports that he received the money from the shipbuilders for Shearer's "merely as a personal favor" and received no remuneration.

CHECK CASHING CITED

Edward A. Adams, secretary and treasurer of the Merchant News Corporation, and Oscar Olson, assistant to Adams, also told the committee today of cashing checks from the "American merchant marine fund" totaling $8500 and turning it over to Palen to pay Shearer. Palen said yesterday he had given $1000 to Shearer, who was "broke" because he was working in behalf of the American merchant marine.

Hunter also related that he was the go-between on the payment of $7500 by the shipbuilders to Shearer in December, 1926, for publicity work in connection with the merchant marine program of the United States Shipping Board. He said he paid Shearer $2500 a month beginning in December and carrying through until March. This period coincided with the short term of Congress that year.

Face Just Covered With Red
Pimples. Healed by Cuticura.

"Little by little small, red pimples began to appear on my face, and soon it was just covered with them. They grew larger and larger, and very itchy and scaled over. The pimples were in great blotches and my face so that I was ashamed to meet anyone. I could not stop touching them, which made them worse. The trouble lasted about a week." I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent in a free sample. It proved to be very satisfactory so I purchased a few bars. I was very pleased with them and I was healed. I am now a Miss May A. Shimizu, 1233-16th Ave. N, Seattle, Wash., Jan. 2, 1929.

Comes Out Flat Against Haphazard Relief

Handout or Charity to Aid
Agriculture Scored

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (P)—Alexander Legge, who gave up a $100,000 annual salary as head of the International Harvester Company to become chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, told the Senate Agriculture Committee today he would not want that position under the misapprehension that he would favor a hurried or haphazard plan of farm relief.

He pledged himself to do all in his power to make the farmer prosperous by working out the agricultural problems constructively.

"I do not believe the farmer is seeking relief or any charity," Legge said. "If we put this money out haphazardly no one would be benefited and it would soon be gone."

"I believe our job should be done with consideration for measures of reasonable economy. That is what I intend to do."

With this statement, Legge completed more than four hours of testimony during which some committed members of the Farm Board had not undertaken the stabilization of wheat and cotton.

At tomorrow's hearing, James C. Stone of Kentucky, vice-chairman of the board, and representative of the tobacco industry, will be heard.

SEEKS PLAINLY

Chairman Legge made it plain to the committee he favored stabilization operations in a farm commodity only after a marketing organization considered capable of carrying out those operations had been perfected.

As for wheat, he said the Farmers' Marketing Corporation is now being organized and if stabilization is to be undertaken, that agency would be able to do it with more safety and dispatch than the board itself. He added that in time, such a marketing organization will be set up to stabilize cotton and pork.

Although no Senator favoring the stabilization of wheat and cotton would comment publicly, some hinted that opposition to Mr. Legge's confirmation on the floor of the Senate would intensify. A number of administration leaders, however, asserted his appointment will be approved.

After a series of questions on production and marketing, Senator Norbeck, Republican of South Dakota, remarked as he addressed the chairman, he "holds out no hope of restoring the purchasing power of the farmers' dollar to its pre-war level."

WOULDN'T GO THAT FAR
"Oh I wouldn't go that far," Legge replied.

"Well, then," the Senator returned, "you hold out a hope but no guarantee."

Legge was prevented by other questions from replying.

The board chairman said a favorable price effect was noticed after arrangement of a $9,000,000 loan to the Sun-Maid Raisin interests of California. He was asked why the announcement of some concrete program of some concrete program of some concrete program of the farmers' dollar to its pre-war level.

"A statement on cost of production might have had a temporary beneficial effect," he replied, "but it would have been mere guesswork."

Senator Smith, Democrat of South Carolina, contended in a statement saying the board intended to use its full resources to help conditions would have aided greatly.

"We had a right to expect the board to go right to the relief of the most staple products of this country," Smith said.

"The board has taken no action," interrupted Senator Fraser, Republican of North Dakota. "The farmers have lost confidence in the board because of the manner in which it has gone at this problem."

WILLING TO GO HOME

"You can't hurt my feelings by sending me home," Mr. Legge replied and added he did not demand credit for having been selected for the post he holds.

Two farm organizations, Mr. Legge asserted, wanted a business man on the board and I was considered to be in as close touch with the farmer as any one from the limited field.

DO NOT HURRY THE FARMER
"We do not believe the farmer is seeking a handout or any charity. If we put this money out haphazardly, no one would be benefited and it would be soon gone. I believe our job should be done with consideration for measures of reasonable economy."

"That is what I intend to do. I would not attempt this position under any misapprehension."

Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, contended that the loan of $9,000,000 arranged for the Sun-Maid Raisin interests of California last month benefited the Sun-Maid Corporation of Delaware which held the patent rights.

Legge replied that the corporation's stock is owned by the California growers.

MASSACRE
BY CHINESE CONFIRMED

Three Thousand Moslem
Males Slain in Remote
Province of Kansu

HANKOW (China) Sept. 25. (P)—Massacre by Chinese of 3000 Moslems in remote Kansu Province recently was confirmed today by letters from missionaries in the affected area. The slaughter occurred in the last days of August, but news of it reached here late because of the primitive communications with Kansu. The massacre took place at Tauchow, an old city in Southwest Kansu, on the Tau River.

According to information considered authentic, after a period of Sino-Moslem conflict in South Kansu, which was part of a general Mohammedan rebellion in the province during the last two years in the southwest of the province, Chinese authorities, under the order of provincial authorities at Lanchow, asked Moslems to convene at Tauchow for a conference and to submit to the government.

After the Moslems' arrival, all of the males between the ages of 15 and 50 were separated from the women and children, taken outside the city walls and "butchered like sheep."

No word reached the women until the next day when pitiful scenes were enacted while women sought to identify their dead. Their mournful cries echoed through the city.

The Moslems were concentrated in Tauchow as a result of intense famine in Southwest Kansu, which resulted in thousands of Mohammedans becoming refugees or starving to death.

Many of the frame structures also were destroyed.

Most of the persons taken from the Harvey House were railroad men and laborers who had been working on the dykes and a few San Marcial residents who stayed with their homes until the last minute. Those who left that afternoon went to the hills where some will wait until the water recedes. Some, however, will go to El Paso at the earliest opportunity.

Meager advices as to the extent of the damage caused by the flood said the new Santa Fe Railroad bridge did not go out, although the approaches on both sides were destroyed.

The town of San Marcial had a population of 1400 before the first flood in August. Probably half that number had returned and were engaged in rebuilding homes and stores when the second flood descended on the town. Nearly all of these left Monday and early Tuesday.

The breaking of the dyke Tuesday resulted in the virtual destruction of the town. The buildings were of adobe construction which crumbled quickly when attacked by flood waters.

Many of the frame structures also were destroyed.

Palmer received authorization from Washington today to spend $5000 immediately for much-needed temporary food control and restoration work.

HOOVER TARIFF HINT ATTACKED

La Follette and George Hit
Flexible Clause

Wisconsin Senator Makes
Three-Hour Speech

Georgian Says President
Forgets Farmer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (UPI)—
Denunciation of the flexible provisions of the tariff bill resounded in the Senate today as an aftermath of President Hoover's statement urging retention of the principle in the Hawley-Smoot measure.

Senators La Follette of Wisconsin, a Republican independent, and George of Georgia, a Democratic member of the Finance Committee, attacked the President for "breaking his long silence" on the tariff question at a time when the most important flexible provisions are at issue, and flayed the principle with vigor.

HOPE FOR REPEAL

A majority of the Democrats hope to repeal the flexible provisions with the aid of the Republican Senators from the farm States.
La Follette, who has been in the Senate a month, last night spoke for three hours. "Young Bob" La Follette traced the history of the operation of the flexible clause since its enactment in 1922 and asserted "intrigue, political influence of Presidents Harding and Coolidge, and certainly had destroyed the usefulness of the tariff commission and resisted to the failure of the Senate provisions."

The President, he said, had not spoken to indicate whether he approved the pending bill or that the measure complied with his "measures" mentioned in his speech.
He had had "very little" to do with the action of Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, "only to indicate he desires retention of the flexible provisions."

GEORGE CRITICIZES

Senator George said Mr. Hoover had spoken only twice on important pending legislation, and both times against the interests of the farmer. He contended the President had not done his duty to stand against agriculture when he opposed incorporation of the adventure plan in the farm bill.

"President Hoover threw himself into the tariff breach," George continued, "not when farm products were at a standstill when the chief danger of the high-tariff protection interests of this country was believed to be in danger, to wit, the flexible provisions of the tariff."

"His silence in other respects," the Georgian asserted, "indicates his acquiescence in all other matters in this bill."

CONGRESS TO CONTROL

La Follette argued for a bi-partisan tariff commission made responsible to Congress. He said Congress can revise the tariff much quicker than the present Tariff Commission can investigate complaints.

"Harding's simple faith in the Ohio school of protection and Columbia and New England view of the tariff," he said, "led to a packing of the commission with tariff lobbyists and a tearing down of its intended scientific operations."

Out of thirty-seven applications for rate reductions made timely by the commission, he remarked that all but five had been in "one direction and that is upward."

La Follette quoted President
Hoover, as Secretary of Commerce, as saying before a Senate committee hearing on the administration of Vice-Chairman Dennis of the commission, that the flexible provisions had been "mischievously administered."

BINGHAM SECRETARY SCORED AS LOBBYIST

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (UPI)—
Crossing the floor of the Senate yesterday by tariff dissenters of the last twenty-four hours today provoked more than six hours of stormy debate, during the latter stages of which order was maintained only with the greatest difficulty.

The focal point of the debate was the admitted action of Senator Bingham of Connecticut, Republican member of the Finance Committee, in employing an official of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association as his "lobbyist" and accused that Bingham had offended
the dignity of the Senate by putting
him on the public pay roll and permitting him to participate in secret sessions of the Finance Committee.

Obviously ill at ease under the
reproaches being heaped upon him,
Bingham sought to excuse himself
on the ground that he needed "expert advice," and sought the man
who could familiarize him with Connecticut's tariff needs. His employer, Charles E. Ryerson, during his service in Bingham's office, had been on a "leave of absence" from the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association.

SCORED AS LOBBYIST
Because this man, Charles E.
Ryerson, previously had represented his association as an "observer"
during the tariff hearings before the House Ways and Means Committee, Bingham's action was accused him as a lobbyist, and accused that Bingham had offended
the dignity of the Senate by putting
him on the public pay roll and permitting him to participate in secret sessions of the Finance Committee.

Obviously ill at ease under the
reproaches being heaped upon him,
Bingham sought to excuse himself
on the ground that he needed "expert advice," and sought the man
who could familiarize him with Connecticut's tariff needs. His employer, Charles E. Ryerson, during his service in Bingham's office, had been on a "leave of absence" from the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association.

WATSON DEFENDER
Although it was brought out during the debate that other Republicans had accused Ryerson from executive, legislative and congressional sources of being a lobbyist, thus implying their disapproval of Bingham's action, Majority Leader
Watson took the floor just before adjournment to defend the Connecticut Senator and to reproach
the Democrats for impugning Bingham's motives.

Watson's action immediately drew think of their Dodge Trucks in terms of work done and profits earned.

But on the Pacific Coast, owners of Dodge Trucks think of these sturdy workers in a still more personal,
more friendly way—they value
them also as home-grown products.

Virtually every Dodge Truck sold throughout California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Nevada is a product of the West—built by Westerners in a Western plant at Stockton, California. From this modern plant thousands of Dodge Trucks go forth each year to take their places throughout the busy, prosperous states that are the West.

Small need to tell Westerners how good Dodge Trucks are. They know them and respect them for their power, speed, dependability and economy. They admire them for their good looks. They like to drive

Afterwards, I was awful-

times when I'd try to go to town, I'd just give out and have to go back home. I hardly ever got a good night's rest. My wife was mighty sick too. Her blood pres-

the heat exertion would send the heat rushing to her face and she'd faint. I spent hundreds of dollars trying to find a doctor that would help, but it was the same old story of no last-

and strong now as she ever was.
I've put my stomach back in

I sleep fine and have more strength of vitality than I've had in years.

Head of Supervisors Asks
Greater HarmonyConsolidations of Smaller

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—A. J. Veigel, commissioner of Minnesota banks and president of the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks, opened the twenty-eighth convention of that organization at the Palace Hotel today with a plea for harmony between advocates of State and national banking systems. The convention provides that of the American Bankers' Association, which convenes Monday.

The bank supervisors were told that in ten years the resources of State banks in the country have increased more than $9,500,000,000 and that of the increase in national bank resources.

HUGE INCREASE

In 1919 a convention statement showed resources in the State banking system of the nation as $25,965,675,000 and in national banks $20,759,550,000. This year the respective figures are $43,844,940,000 and $28,021,912,000.

The speakers were presented by Fred G. Cannon, secretary of the Pennsylvania, and were accompanied by a plea to State bankers to keep close watch on the proceedings of the American Bankers' Association.

In making his plea for greater co-operation between State and national banks, President Veigel declared the two systems have similar problems and aims and that the dual banking system is here to stay. Declaring he would not like to see branch or group banking

FOURTEEN FEET OF BRICK
DIVIDES WARRING HOUSES

TUCSON (Ariz.) Sept. 25. (AP)—Berryn's house is on a corner. The neighbors include a man, his wife, and daughter. They contend Mrs. Berryn at all times was unreasonable in her demands for quiet.

According to Berryn's version of the neighborhood controversy, which resulted in the spite wall that mars the beauty of the two well-landscaped homes, the trouble began when Mrs. Berryn requested that quiet be observed between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when her physician had prescribed quiet and rest. The request, it was charged, apparently resulted in a greater amount of noise from the neighbors.

The wall, which has fourteen-inch buttresses at frequent intervals, extends from the front pavements, extends to the rear extremity of the two properties.

It was erected by R. J. Berryn of Chicago, said to be an official of the International Harvester Company, to protect his sick wife from noises asserted by him to have been made by their next-door neighbors.

take the place of unit banks, he added:

TOO MANY BANKS

The present marked tendency toward branch or group banking is at least partially due to the numerous failures of unit banks during the last year. We have had, and still have, too many banks, many too small to pay proper salaries to competent officers, charge off bad debts and pay dividends. We have had about 149 consolidations in the past year and should have more. We should encourage and urge consolidations wherever conditions warrant and new bank charters should not be granted except where there is a public need.

Veigel declared the most constructive work State bank supervisors and superintendents can do is to stop unsound banking practices early and not allow them to continue until they endanger the safety of the banks.

SCORES SYSTEM

Discussing taxation, E. W. Porter, Idaho Commissioner of Finance, said:

"Since its beginning the banking business in America has been popular. The dislike of banking seems to be a natural psychology existing between those who loan money and afterward seek to recover it and those who borrow and request for repayment. It is, at its eleventh annual conference at Mammoth.

political officers, chosen by popular vote and having a meager understanding of conditions surrounding and the service of banking institutions, have proceeded more and more on the theory that any bank that can make up a bank is justified and a good stroke of business from a political standpoint."

OTHER SPEAKERS

He added that Federal statutes safeguarding the rights of national banks eventually will give security against unfair treatment of State banks.

Fred W. Lipman, president of the Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust Company, Will C. Wood, superintendent of California banks, and Alderman Nease, president of the National Bankers' Committee, were other speakers at the opening session.

In the afternoon the bank supervisors and their wives and friends listened to an address by John L. Michie, banker, lawyer and orator, the project of the Committee of the United States and its founders.

Population Harried Over
Series of Quakes

Lava Forces Way Upward,
Causing Tremors

HILO (Hawaii) Sept. 25. (AP)—Volcanologist Thomas A. Jaggar announced today that there is a possibility of a simultaneous eruption of the three volcanoes Kilauea, MaunaLoa and Hualalai on Hawaii Island.

Jaggar's announcement came as a climax of a two-and-a-half-hour period during which 159 earth shocks have harried the population of the Kona district of the island. Jaggar, who has studied Hawaii's volcanoes many years, said:

"You may expect an eruption, possibly on the west side of Hualalai, within a month. It is impossible to say definitely where lava will reach the surface. It may be from Hualalai, MaunaLoa or Kilauea, or from all three. Most likely it will be from Hualalai."

"We have no scientific data on the last Hualalai eruption, but old natives told me that the last demonstration came in two eruptions.

One of them, possibly the 1868 eruption, was of a nature similar to the huge 1863 MaunaLoa flow, and the second in 1861, was of a quiet nature."

"Earthquakes in the Kona district are more like vibrations ending in sudden jolts. These cause houses to shake freely. This possibly is the result of lava forcing its way up a large crevice and causing tremors by an upward movement. It is altogether possible the tremors may cease in time, the subsequent eruption occurring in five years. However, this is not probable."

Attorney Confirms Reports on Return from Texas

Opening of Trial Scheduled for October 7, Next

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—Back from a conference with Albert B. Fall in El Paso, Tex. Frank J. Hogan of Washington, who successfully defended Edward L. Doheny three years ago in the first criminal case growing out of the Senate oil investigation, confirmed reports today that he will be chief counsel for the former Secretary of the Interior when the latter stands trial here October 7, next, on a charge of accepting a $100,000 bribe from his old friend and fellow-prospector.

Denying rumors that Fall again will plead ill health in a endeavor to postpone his trial on the bribery charge, Mr. Hogan declared today that the former cabinet officer has no such intention.

"When I saw Mr. Fall a week ago in El Paso, he was obviously a physically broken man," said Hogan. "Despite his condition, however, he will be here on October 7, and will not seek a postponement on account of physical disability."

After eight years of prosecution in the civil and criminal courts the former Secretary of the Interior was described as looking nearly 20 years of age than 67 and but a shadow of his former robust figure.

The first skirmish in the legal battle will come next Wednesday when legal points in the bribery case will be argued.

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

False modesty is a relic of an ancient prejudice. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has cut it away and, in behalf of better health and pure enjoyment, sponsors the fashion of sensible swimming attire.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Governor's Cabinet Listens to Johnston's Plan

Accurate Statistics First Need in Conflict

School for Peace Officers Another Necessity

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 25. (Exclusive) — A three-fold plan for enlarging the scope of the State Division of Criminal Investigation to curb the activities of criminals in California was outlined at today's session of Gov. Young's cabinet by James A. Johnston, director of penology. The plan contemplates: First, the reorganization of criminal investigators to assist small counties in apprehending criminals and solving crimes.

Second, the establishment of a bureau of statistics, so that a complete crime record in California may be maintained and preserved.

SCHOOL FOR OFFICERS

Third, the organization of training schools for peace officers. Johnston explained that heretofore the division of criminal investigation has restricted its activities mainly to investigating criminal records without authority for independent investigations.

"The reporting of crimes and information relative to criminals," said Johnston, "will be standardized by the division, so that the statistics of all peace officers, coroners, district attorneys and others interested in crime suppression and the punishment of criminals."

FORMER FAILURES

"Practically every commission that has made the attempt to study crime of the United States has found that it is handicapped by the lack of accurate comparable statistics. While not discounting the value of opinion based on experience, we may not be dependent upon what any individual knows about this important question which has grown beyond our personal knowledge."

"We also must arrange to obtain the co-operation of the University of California and the University of Southern California to organize schools for the training of peace officers."

FLAGG AND QUIRT TO LIVE ON

U. S. Scappers to Be Reincarnated in New Picture; Lasky Signs Schwab and Mandel, Frank Harling; Renee Macready Will Be With R.-K.-O.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Somebody was heard to remark Tuesday night, when the crowd was coming out of Grauman's Chinese Theater, following the opening of "The Cock-eyed World," "Well, I wish that'd make regular. Roll series of these pictures, they are so enjoyable."

That somebody will be pleased to learn that the dashng Capt. Flagg and Sgt. Quirt are to live on.

For and Raoul will be playing still another story of the pair's adventures in still another clime and with a fresh flock of feminine beauties. The locale of the new story is as yet undecided, although it is possible that it will be China. The picture will not be made for several months.

As the result of his work as the rakish Quirt in "The Cock-eyed World," Edmund Lowe has received a new long-term contract and an improved salary from Fox. The contract of Victor McLaglen has still some time to run.

"The Cock-eyed World" is still beating all records in New York and even as early as yesterday, it was predicted that the picture will do the same at the Chinese.

MUSICAL NOTABLES

CREATE FOR LASKY

The trend of pictures toward music is again recognized practically by Paramount by the signing of a notable musical comedy producer, concern and a well-known composer.

Schwab and Mandel of New York is the producing concern, and Frank Harling is the composer.

Schwab and Mandel, known as the producers of "Good News," "The Good Dog" and "Follow the Sun," by the terms of the contract, to create at least two all-talking-and-singing screen productions for Paramount each year, Jess L. Lasky made known yesterday.

The producers will prepare original screen stories. Most of these screen presentations, although it is possible that one or more of their past and present stage hits may be filmed under this plan.

Players will be recruited from the ranks of performers under contract with Fox.

Irish Actress With R.-K.-O.

Renee Macready, comedy maid from Dublin, Ireland, has been signed by Radio Pictures for featured roles.

The young actress, who speaks and sings in several languages, has just arrived on the R.-K.-O. lot.

William Collier, Sr., will have the central role, while Rex Bell, the juvenile lead, and Marlene Dietrich, Churchill, the female lead. Other important roles will be Charles Eaton and Charlotte Henry.

The selection of Bell as juvenile reveals an interesting story of his screen career to date.

Chosen at first to play westerns, he was found to be not quite the type. It was reported that he was to leave Fox. More screen tests were given him, however, and his skill in acting has been developing steadily, he is now to be given featured parts, it is announced.

LINDBERGH ENDS LAP HOMEWARD

Air-Mail Pathfinder Plane Lends at Port of Spain

Squalls Fought in Course of Hop from Paramaribo

Party Scheduled to Take Off for Venezuela Today

PORT OF SPAIN (Trinidad) Sept. 25. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh outmaneuvered intermittent squalls out of jungles and treebound river deltas of coastal South America today to mark another trail for the air mail, this time retracing his aerial progress from Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana, to Port of Spain. The colonel set his plane down here at 1:10 p.m. today, concluding the first leg of the homeward journey in his 7000-mile aerial tour of the West Indies, South America, Central America and Mexico.

Revealing his trip of Monday, Col. Lindbergh pushed his mail and passenger-bearing plane over the soft delicate shades and delicate trims with hand embroidery and with appliquéd designs of work on net, such garnishes of refined taste.

Personality Perfumes by G. Creative perfumier to discerning women who choose from him such exquisite care and perfume, endowed with such skill that it becomes every man of your distinctive personality all exclusive shop. Tokio

When assembling your new wardrobe, look well. I notice the accessories which you choose accompany your various colors. Color has never been so important to the mode. Colors have never been so distinctive. The choice of accessories has been so critical. However, it is enough to know that brown is a smart color. Brown reds and browns are extremely chic. Dark green is worn by many women, and black has lost none of its popularity. All of this is true—but it is not to blur and even obliterate the color scheme in any of these colors. By means of accessories, we can help to heighten the color by the same means. Remember, accessories i.e. a taller should be entirely different in character, those chosen for an afternoon.

Blazing the Trail for New Air Route from Florida to the tip of South America, Lindy and Anne safely reached Port of Spain, Trinidad, and a day later took off for Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana. The famous couple are caught here as they started flight from Washington, D. C. (A. P. photo.)

Evacuation of the Rhine District by British brings mingled feelings of relief and regret to German inhabitants who have come to know and like Tommy during the occupation. Many of the troops have taken German wives, a fact which complicates the situation all around. A detachment of Tommies on way out is pictured here. (P. & A. photo.)

More Straw Hats will be worn by Italians during the next year than ever before as result of plea of Augusto Turati, secretary of Fascist party. (Herbert photo.)

When Truly Shattuck Went Into Court in Chicago, charged with the theft of a cheap dress from a department store, the photographer caught the whilom toast of Broadway in the above pose. Friends rallied to her support and charge against her was dropped. (P. & A. photo.)

New Harvard Man—Allen Hoover, youngest son of the President, was enrolled in the business college at Harvard University last week. (A. P. photo.)

Rose and Deep Red are blended in this novelty coat suit of tailored worsted. The close-fitting turban is of red with ribbon trim of two tones. (A. P. photo.)

Counterfeits of New Small Currency recently put in circulation have already appeared, according to warning broadcast by Chief W. H. Moran (above) of United States Secret Service. The bills, one of which was picked up in California, are crude imitations. (P. & A. photo.)

ONE OF THE MOST INGENIOUS STRATEGEMS used by the British in fighting the submarine was the Q-ship, a harmless-looking old tramp steamer, to lure the "sub" to expose itself to attack.

SIGHTING ONE OF THESE INNOCENT-LOOKING CRAFTS, THE SUBMARINE COMMANDER, SCORING TO WASTE A PRECIOUS TORPEDO ON SUCH A TUB, WOULD COME IN CLOSE TO DESTROY HIS "VICTIM" WITH HIS DECK GUN.

WHEN THE SUB HAD COME CLOSE ENOUGH to present an easy target, the hatches of the steamer would fly open, revealing guns, manned by regular navy gun crews, and the usually German was doomed.

AT FIRST THE Q-SHIPS WERE A GREAT SUCCESS, SINKING 12 SUBMARINES. BUT AT LAST A "SUB" GOT AWAY TO THE TRICK, AND AFTER THAT THE BRITISH SUSPECTED ALL SHIPS AND ATTEMPTED TO KEEPS A SAFE DISTANCE.

The chief government enforcement officer complimented the W.C.T.U. for its effort to make known the "good that arises from voluntary obedience to laws" resulting from "crystallized opinion of the majority of our people."

The good accomplished, Dr. Doran admitted, in admitting that errors are made in administering the work of the Prohibition Bureau, "far outweigh any minor human errors and mistakes which he has, and which are occasionally made."

Dr. E. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, was the final speaker on the afternoon program.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Dr. James M. Doran, Federal Commissioner of Prohibition, today attacked as "inconsistent" business leaders for continuing to drink an evil for their employees, but who feel no need to interfere with their own drinking.

He said he knows of no economist who, having studied the problem, does not believe the government's policy has "brought tremendous economic advance." He likewise stated he recalls no prominent social worker who has failed to note that the best prohibition has been "in the social lives of the people and who has not also noted the good accomplished by the prohibition laws in direct proportion to the degree of enforcement.

WAGGONER BEFORE COURT

Colorado Banker Arraigned in New York City;
Sent to Federal House of Detention

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—Meek, shabbily dressed and gray-haired Charles Delos Waggoner—the small-time Colorado banker who had Wall street financial wizards in a whirl when they first sought to figure out how he telephoned $500,000 out of their vaults—stood before two burly marshals in Federal District Court here today and heard himself ordered to the Federal House of Detention in default of $100,000 bail. He listened to U. S. Dist. Atty. could get five times as much money. Tuttle accuse him of using the key just as easily out of the vaults as much money as he wanted. Waggoner earlier declared was but his plan to save his friends in Telluride by simple methods of getting back some of the money which he believed Wall street took from his mining and sheep-raising friends. "I know half a dozen ways I keep the money."

Officer Designated to Fly New Plane of Wales

LONDON, Sept. 25. (AP)—Personal air pilot to H. R. H. the Prince of Wales is the new post created in Great Britain's royal establishment today by the appointment of E. H. Fielden of the Air Force Officers' Reserve Corps to fly the plane that belongs to the heir to the throne.

This is the first time a member of the British royal family has had an air pilot attached to his establishment. Fielden, who is 26 years of age and has a reputation as a brilliant pilot, will fly the Prince in his new two-seat light airplane, the first though recently

It is understood the heir to the throne does not plan to take out a pilot's certificate, but as the plane is fitted with dual controls the Prince will sometimes fly it.

Stanford Students Aid Search for Young Woman
Mysteriously Missing After Auto-Mishap

PALO ALTO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Menlo Park and Palo Alto police, aided by Stanford University students, are searching tonight for Miss Vera Bales of Hollister, who disappeared mysteriously in the confusion of an automobile accident in which her father's car was wrecked on the Palo Alto-San Francisco Highway last night.

Miss Bales stepped from the machine into the woods and brush near Menlo Park had been picked up by a member of the motorist or had made her way to San Francisco. There are questions that remain unanswered as the search continues tonight.

Brant Rancho

FACTS

+ +

THIS award is of special merit as samples were taken from the wagons by Health Authorities and were not especially prepared.

+ +

BRANT RANCHO has been winning first prizes for the past fifteen years, winning perhaps, more gold medals than any other dairy in the world.

+ +

AT THE National Dairy Show, Chicago, Brant Rancho Milk and Cream won both gold medals and the first and only 100% perfect score ever awarded by the United States Government. Brant Rancho is the only dairy that has been awarded 100% score for both milk and cream.

+ +

BRANT RANCHO has the largest herd of registered (pure blooded) Guernsey Cattle in the World, and the only one supplying Los Angeles with pure Guernsey Milk.

+ +

BRANT RANCHO has the only Accredited Herd (free of tuberculosis by U. S. Government tests) ... supplying Los Angeles with milk.

+ +

BRANT RANCHO is the only dairy that provides each cow with an individual box stall, drinking fountain and manger. Stalls are heavily bedded with clean wood shavings, cleaned three times per day, and the cows are cleaned with a vacuum cleaner. There is no odor...even in the barns.

+ +

BRANT RANCHO Guernsey Milk is produced under the strictest regulations of the Los Angeles Health Department that guarantee the high quality of this best of all milks.

FACTS

BRANT RANCHO Guernseys are the only cows supplying Los Angeles with milk that are provided with health giving, green, alfalfa pasture the year round.

+ +

BRANT RANCHO Guernsey Milk is famous for its richness, deep yellow color and its delicious creamy flavor. Guernsey Milk averages 3% in butter fat. Doctors state it is 33% richer in food value than the ordinary milk.

AMONG the many private customers who subscribe to the milk in home use are found the sick and convalescents who are building up their strength and weight. Many of them have said Brant Rancho Guernsey Milk the best "medicine" they ever took for their recovery.

+ +

BRANT RANCHO Guernseys are the private property of Mr. D. O. Brant who personally manages their lives and the production of their delicious milk on the beautiful Rancho on the Ventura Highway between Owensmouth and Glendale.

+ +

BRANT RANCHO Milk is served in the best clubs, hotels and hospitals...including the California, University, Athletic and Jonathan Club, Barlow Sanitarium, Good Samaritan, Methodist, Angelus Hospital, the Biltmore Hotel...the Arbor, Colonial, Fern, La Floral, La Palma and other leading cafeterias and restaurants in Los Angeles.

+ +

BRANT RANCHO Guernsey Milk is produced and bottled on the farm. The entire supply is sold daily. For the convenience of customers arrangements have been made for delivery with the Crescent Creamery that covers the entire city.

Savings Incalculable!

A Style Range Immeasurable!

Quality Supreme!

WE'VE slashed, cut, and whittled! Large and small—every conceivable obstacle between us and our customers' savings—and as a result we guarantee a savings of at least $10 on every suit.

We've done away with seasonal work—each machine, every man, produces one hundred per cent day after day throughout the entire year. Our overhead is 6%—the Government rates 30% as just, right and reasonable. Owning our 5 big sunlit factories has saved us thousands upon thousands. We refuse to take 3 great profits and have cut 6 distribution costs to one. These are economies we pass on to you. And now so many men have bought so many Foreman & Clark garments at such tremendous savings that we're able to sacrifice profit for quantity—to make no more than 55c on any suit we sell.*

Drawn from the fashion centers of the world—our styles come in—are made up—and shipped out! Day after day new models in varied patterns and colors go to our Coast to Coast stores—to be sold months ahead of any other clothier's. These are styles that are new and different—designed to meet the demands of the high standards of Foreman & Clark customers.

36 separate hand tailoring operations go into every Foreman & Clark suit. It's the kind of expert craftsmanship that imparts their added touch of style and luxury. The fabrics, woven according to our own exacting requirements, are produced by English and American mills famous for their long wearing, splendid draping all wools. Before ever a tailor's shears touches these fabrics we test them for strength, color fastness and all wool content with tests the exact duplicates of those used by the U. S. Bureau of Standards.

MODOC COUNTY HAILS RAILWAY

Espee's New Line to Develop Untouched Empire

Northeast Corner of State Rich in Possibility

Outlet Long Needed to Take Care of Products

BY FLOYD J. HEALY

"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (Exclusive)—Recent opening of the Southern Pacific's new ninety-six-mile line between Klamath Falls,

Or., and Alturas, Cal., serves to center attention on a territory rich in romance, high productivity in the past, and potentially more in the future, yet a territory little known to the average Californian.

Modoc county, tucked away off in the extreme northeastern corner of the State, looks upon this as the greatest single factor in development since the cutting of the first wagon roads nearly three-quarters of a century ago.

BONE OF CONTENTION

Because it shortly is to become the bone of contention between three railroads the data which follow are presented on the authority of the Alturas Chamber of Commerce.

Stock raising always has been its principal industry. From 1920 to 1925 the number of beef cattle increased 60 per cent. In the Modoc

Forest there is ample pasture for 40,000 head of cattle and 100,000

sheep. In the entire county,

there are 125,000 head of sheep. Lambs in 1927 averaged eighty-five pounds at four months and brought an average of $1.10 per head, while ewes in the same year

sheared from 100 to 150 pounds of sheep per head and the product brought from 30 to 32 cents per pound.

DAIRY INDUSTRY

Dairying has increased 133

per cent in the last three years. The output in 1926 was 750,000 pounds of butter and 200,000 pounds of cheese.

Merchandise timber in the country is estimated between 12,000,000

and 15,000,000,000 board feet,

the bulk of which is Western yellow pine.

Soil ranges from heavy clay subsoil to light sand, predominating in a loamy sandy loam, silt-washed, easy to cultivate and fertile. In the valleys and along stream beds the land consists chiefly of black alluvial deposits. In the aggregate there are approximately 750,000 acres which can be farmed, only half of which are under production and only 40,000 of which are under cultivation.

Water supply is ample, average annual precipitation being fourteen inches at valley points and considerably more in the mountains.

There are numerous streams.

NATURAL FORAGE

Native grass and brown herbage on average produce 250 pounds of beef and mutton.

Hay of all kinds—clover,

timothy, blue grass and altaff—thrives. Two or three crops of alfalfa are cut and the yield runs in some instances as high as five tons per acre. Barley and oats are grown in abundance, especially in the valley points where the water supply is ample.

LAND VALUES

Land values range from $5 to $150 per acre, the latter being in the valley points.

Land values in the valley points are approximately $100 per acre.

two twenty-knot passenger and cargo turbo-electric steamers of approximately 32,000 tons displacement were awarded the Dollar Steamship Line, Inc., by the Shipping Board today. The loans will amount to the cost of each vessel, whichever shall be the less, and the funds are to be advanced at the minimum interest rates provided in the Merchant

The vessels are to be built by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, Newport News, Va. The first of the two ships is to be completed by October 1, 1931, and the second by February 1, 1932.

When completed the vessels will be placed in the Dollar round-the-

TEXAS DRY
AGENT SHOT
IN AMBUSH

Federal Officers Blocked
by Woman on Road and
One Wounded in Fight

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Sept. 25. (AP)—Charles Stevens, Federal prohibition agent, was shot and seriously wounded early today in a gun battle with asserted bootleggers on a highway near here.

Stevens, who shot and killed Tom Chenier, 43 years of age, in a raid on his home near Proctor, Atascosa County, last August, and Pat Murphy, another Federal officer, had participated in a raid on a still in the same county and were returning to their cars when they were attacked according to Murphy and R. H.
Hirsch, the third agent in the raid, the operators of the still escaped.

The officers were within eight miles of the city, Murphy said, when they came upon a woman who had blocked the road with her car to keep the drivers from shooting. The woman was arrested and Hirsch was instructed to bring her here.

Stevens and Murphy were a considerable distance behind Hirsch and the woman when men on either side of the road opened fire on them.

Murphy said he believed the men who had escaped when they raided the still are responsible for the attack. The woman is held for investigation.

MEXICO UNION
LAW PRAISED

Portes Gil Says Organizing
Necessary Measure

President Asks Capital to Fear No Alarm

Functional Democracy Aim of Government

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 25. (AP)— Mexico has developed its industrial philosophy and policies that it be respected, President Portes Gil told correspondent of Examiner at Monterrey, where the head of the government is visiting.

The proposed national labor law

now before Congress was cited as a product of this philosophy.

The government is to be a factor of production. It is necessary to end conflicts between capital and labor, and it fixes a standard designed to protect both, said Portes Gil.

WILL BE FACTOR
The possession of property now constitutes responsibility to the community as a whole. It is no longer a right to abuse. The labor project recognises this new conception of property. Until now the worker has been a thing to hire;
under the labor law he will be an accepted factor of production.

Capital may be alarmed for the moment, said the president, but will not be greatly disturbed by the work as much to its interest as to union labor. It is admitted the measure has flaws but the President termed it "an honest effort." He said he is not stubborn, but will not compromise his principles.

At all events, he said, the measure is truly a Mexican development, suiting the situation in Mexico and far more practicable than imported ideas advocated by some groups.

The President said it is the government's desire to establish a permanent "functional democracy" and a test to be made for the first time in Mexican history in placing a project in debate before it is made effective.

SEEK TO ORGANIZE

"It is well known that we are laborites and seek to organise labor," said Portes Gil. "We often have said it not with the desire that labor should enslave industry, but in seeking to give the workers rights and make responsible their obligations. When all industrialists and workers in Mexico have been organised industry will prosper and attain its greatest development.

In other parts are followed industry will be the mercy of contradicatory groups. We urge industrialists to organise themselves without denying the rights of labor and that organized employees and organized labor co-operate for the development of Mexico's industry."

WELLINGTON OIL EARNINGS HIGH

Estimated Third Quarter Net at Record Level

Profits Per Share Placed at 58 Cents in Period

Equal to $1.29 on Stock for Eight Months

Wellington Oil Company will show net earnings of approximately $176,000 for the current quarter. D. S. Seinan, secretary of the company, estimated yesterday on the basis of the net profits earned for July and August. For these two months net earnings after all charges but before Federal taxes amounted to $14,600. On the 300,000 shares of $1 par capital stock outstanding, net earnings of $176,000 for the third quarter would be equivalent to 58 cents a share.

Net earnings for the first eight months of 1929 were $305,324 after all charges including provision for Federal taxes for the first half of the year, equal to $1.02 a share as compared with $1.01 a share for $220,415 or 75 cents a share on the same basis for the full year of 1928.

Gross income for August totaled $79,331 from which was deducted $10,352 for depletion and $16,865 for expenses, leaving net profits before Federal taxes of $11,114. For July the net profits were $5,500.

The 1929 quarterly earnings of the company have shown consistent gains, being $97,567 for the first three months, $113,469 for the second three months and $176,000 (estimated) for the third quarter. These figures are after all charges except Federal income tax and represent a combined total of $387,000, equal to $1.29 cents a share on the 300,000 shares outstanding.

The company has just acquired from C. C. Palmer, San Francisco, three acres on the middle dome of the Kettleman Hills field. His first well on its holdings in the Maricopa Flats area is down 3180 feet and is expected to be completed around 3400 feet, according to the company. The oil field also has four new wells rising up or drilling on its Long Beach properties and two of these are scheduled to be brought in within thirty days.

Golden State Adds Link to Dairy Chain

Golden State Milk Products Company has acquired through merger the Home Dairy Company of Alton, one of the leading dairy units in the San Francisco peninsula territory, according to an announcement yesterday by L. E. W. Poda, chairman of the Golden State Company's board. The deal requires no financial terms.

During the past year the Golden State Company has figured in more than twenty mergers, many of which were in Southern California. Among the companies acquired by merger were the Jersey Farm Dairy Company, the Charles Creamery Company, and Huston Ice Cream Company of Los Angeles; Gold Medal Creamery, Long Beach; the Calla Lily Creamery Company, Glendale; the Riverside Dairy, Riverside, and the West Coast Dairies, Inc., Burlingame.

Gross sales of the company are now running at the rate of approximately $50,000,000 a year. While no net earnings statement has been issued since the publication of the annual report, it is understood that economic effects through the mergers have fully squared early estimates.

New Wilshire Store, Marking Daring Experiment in

Merchandising, Ready to Open Doors

POOR PA
BY CLAUDE CALLAN

It's almost sacrilege to call it a "store," it's a temple to many things, this new magnificent edifice erected by John G. Bullock out on Wilshire Boulevard at Westmoreland avenue.

First, it is essentially a temple-reded new forms of service for the benefit of the community then to the pioneering faith of the West in general, and of John Bullock in particular. This John Bullock is a Canadian by birth, as is also P. D. Winnett, vice-president of the company, epitomizes our almost spiritual faith in our destiny. Twenty-two years ago Mr. Bullock foresaw this amazing growth of ours, when he built the great store at Seventh street and Broadway.

OTHERS FOLLOW

Fair enough to call it a "store," since it was essentially practical for the needs of a 200,000 population.

We marveled that he should be so bold as "out of town" and back his faith so sumptuously.

It was some time later that Ham-burger's, now the May Company, moved from North Spring street to Eighteenth street with Blackstone's to follow suit at his.

We regarded Mr. Bullock as an adventurous, daring pioneer at that time, almost a reckless gambler. But he introduced a hun-

Officer Cited in Asserted Call at Pantages Home

Police Officer Jules Lillenthal was cited by the Police Commission yesterday to appear next Tuesday afternoon to explain his object in calling at the home of Alexander Pantages in Hollywood at 3:35 a.m. on an unannounced date in August, while serious charges pended against the theater magnate and his wife.

The police trial, which was investigated and reported that Lillenthal admitted having sex with Barnes before going to the Pantages home, and his explanation of a telephone call from the police, that a party was going on that he was acquainted and sought to enter the place. A maid sent in a note to the police and Lillenthal, who was accompanied by a friend, was taken to Central Station and examined and

The trial board personnel allotted two months and the conclusion was requested to approve the penalty. Instead the commission decided to make an investigation of its own.

PANTAGES CASE HISTORY GIVEN

(Continued from First Page) the lower spine. It was on the issue of the death finding that defense waged a portion of its case for acquittal.

On the issue of the condition that the defense condition was made by the automobile accident that the Stutz auto, driven by Pantages, was on the left-hand of the highway and that the car was due to reckless driving.

At the meantime Hugh McLean, District Attorney in charge of the complaint department, on the day of Rokumoto's death, Mr. Pantages with driver of automobile while intoxicated.

On June 24, Dist.-Atty. Pflitz took action and ordered a trial of murder filed against Mrs. Pantages.

On June 27 Superior Court issued an order holding Mr. Pantages in jail on the charge of murder.

Mr. Pantages was yet too ill to make his appearance in court to answer the charges. It was not until July 11 that Mrs. Pantages was allowed to stand trial before Judge Ballard in Superior Court and was seated in a chair. She pleaded "not guilty" to the charge of murder and driving a car while intoxicated.

She was released on bonds of $10,000.

GILBERT DEFENDS HER

At the preliminary hearing was set for Aug. 1.

The hearing lasted a few minutes and a hearing was held by Municipal Judge Fredrickson.

He held her to the Superior Court on the murder charge. Her lawyer, W. I. Gilbert, did not intend to appear at the hearing and confirmed his efforts to have the charge changed to manslaughter.

Mr. McGehee, bail bondsman, had a Seventy-eighth street.

He entered a charge of trying to "fix" the case by attempting to make a witness.

Appearing before Superior Judge on August 5 Mrs. Pantages was given trial on the 3rd.

Superior Judge Hardy was present and the trial was adjourned to August 24 to permit the hearing.

She waived her entering a plea on this and said "not guilty" to both charges.

Mr. Steiner, noted New York lawyer, with W. I. Gilbert and Joseph Ford appeared for the defense.

On the day the case came on Steiner came here, he said.

Mr. Jones and Van Cott, attorney for the State, were present as to the cause of the State.

MEMBERS OF JURY

The following jury was retained: Fred Stocking, 1619 East Seventy-eighth street, housewife; Edith H. Thomas, 662 Hillside, housewife; Mrs. Anne L. Orang, 128 Drive, housewife; Mrs. B. R. Petrie, 112 Hillside, San Gabriel, residence; Erlinda Turner, Pasadena, residence; William L. Cummins, 1617 South Boyle Avenue, residence; Mrs. T. O. Wright, 2227 Ocean Road, Montebello, housewife; Hugh G. Shultz, Route 208, Rivers, rancher; Mrs. E. Martin, 527 Whiting Avenue, Segundo, housewife; Robert W. Jones, 665 Bonita Vista, El Segundo, residence; Robert W. Glendale Boulevard, life; orchestra leader.

The case hit at the charge by the defense that Rokumoto died from natural causes. Mrs. Pantages' attorneys contend he died from the result of the operation and his peculiar afflictions.

Dist.-Atty. Pflitz entered the fray and through his efforts and legal testimony as to the cause of death was introduced by the State.

A jury of nine women and three men completed late yesterday, one man and one woman were selected to serve as alternates. Prosecution attorneys let it be known they will not ask the death penalty but will seek a verdict car-

Opposition attorneys will be present to join by the two not guilty votes and the verdict was in.

Courtroom rumor coupled with what the various jurors said following the verdict together with the requests for transcript, and the actions of the various jurors at the dinner hour, all led down to the suspense of the balloting.

Brood F. Petrie, No. 4 of the panel, a retired rancher of 1056 Elm avenue, San Gabriel, also sat at the hotel as he was departing for his home, explained his motion for a mistrial in open court as the jury was about to retire, and said to the court:

"Well," he drawled, "I'll tell you, we were all tired out and I wanted to suggest to the judge that he let us rest or go to bed before startin' to discuss the case."

"Then you had no idea of expecting a mistrial as to verdict?"

"Oh, no, absolutely not. Just wanted to have a rest."

Mrs. T. O. Potts of 2227 Delmar Road, Montrose, No. 7 of the panel, who was open in her judgment, was the only other juror to her ballot on the polling of the jury, said she did not feel like discussing the "terrible" order.

"I felt the deepest sympathy for the defense, but feel that the verdict was just."

Mrs. Potts was in tears throughout the interview.

None of the remaining jurors would discuss the case.

JUNIOR COLLEGE ADDS TWO NEW INSTRUCTORS

The unexpected increase of more than 400 students made necessary the faculty enlargement. The new instructors are Samuel Wixman, associate professor of history, and James F. Ball, mechanical drawing assistant.

JONES DROPS SHULER SUIT

Deputy Sheriff Asks Dismissal of $150,000 Slander Action Based on Radio Remarks

An amicable settlement of the slander suit against Rev. R. P. Shuler in which A. R. (Casey) Jones, deputy sheriff, asked damages amounting to $150,000 has been made, it was revealed yesterday at the Sheriff's office.

The decision was reached, it was learned, at a conference in the office of R. H. Wright with Wright present.

As a result of the conference for Joseph L. Fainer, attorney for Jones, yesterday received a letter from his client requesting that the action against Shuler be dismissed when it comes up for trial next Thursday. In his letter Jones stated "circumstances have arisen which deter me from going through with our program."

AFTERMATH OF SHOOTING

The slander suit arose from a radio talk made by Shuler in which he is asked to have made remarks reflecting upon the integrity of the officers following the attempt of two convicts to escape from the County Jail. Jack Hawkins and Zeke Hayes were the two prisoners. In the attempted jail break, Hawkins drew a pistol in the jail and through his efforts and legal testimony as to the cause of death was introduced by the State.

Today's Bible Text

"If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?" 1 John 4:20.

MATTER OF INTEREST
The heck of it is that the interest on the mortgage goes on while one sleeps. The facilities may be numbered in repose, but the interest sticks tirelessly on. Interest may sometimes be lost, but it carries on just the same.

THE BIG FISH
It was made possible for Winston Churchill to capture a 180-pound marlin swordfish while here. Other entertainment matters little. Whenever a man is enabled to scoop up a fish weighing more than himself he is certain to remember it above other social incidents.

YOUNG ITALIA
Under Mussolini's plans the youth of Italy are to be given thorough athletic and military training. They are all to be taught to ride, to swim, to shoot, to make long marches and to respond to discipline. They should be fit by the time they get around hunting for jobs. But if he expects to start another war they may fall down on him.

EVERYTHING HELPS
The general government hands $36,000 to the State government as California's share of the revenues from the forest reserves. This is a great deal more than the allotment to any other State in the Union, but it is suggested as easily possible that the politicians at Sacramento will be able to devise some use for the money. They are good at such things.

KICKING BACK
Now Tunney is demanding $100,000 from the plumber and his wife as damages for their alleged efforts to blackmail him. This is the retired warrior's method of answering their activities against himself. That is one thing that may be said of our courts: They are always open to both sides. But if Tunney really wants $100,000 he will have to fight this plumber harder than he did Dempsey.

CHICAGO SPENDERS
There is a $2,000,000 deficit in the Cook county treasury in Illinois and the county employees are going without their pay for the time being. But an arrangement has been made whereby certain banks will cash county warrants and the Supervisors will accept judgment for the amount to be provided for in the next levy. It would never do for a man with a county job to have to worry about his salary. It is tough enough if he has to face a little discount on his warrants. But there is little talk of resigning.

MEXICAN NAMES
President Portes Gil of Mexico is a gentleman of modesty and diplomacy. He asks his people not to name any of their streets or parks or schools after him. He feels that public squares or highways should not carry the names of the living, but rather be titled for the honored dead. At any rate revolutionary conditions in the eastern republic have been such as to make it at least undesirable to name public institutions after living warriors or statesmen. There was a day when many women might have named their offspring after Pancho Villa and lived to regret it.

WORLD INVESTMENTS
Americans have huge investments abroad. They have put forth more than $5,000,000,000 in the last two years, but financiers still assert that John Bull is the champion foreign investor. He had a big start and Uncle Sam has never quite caught up. It is claimed that England still has more than $20,000,000 invested in other lands and that the Frenchmen have about as much money out as we have. Americans last year paid more than $250,000,000 interest to foreign investors in American securities. American tourists spent nearly $500,000,000 abroad. These two items are more than twice as much as European governments paid on their debts to America. We have a lot of gold in Washington, but we haven't all the money in the world, by a long shot.

PROHIBITION PROGRESS

Decades of the President that steps are being taken to make Washington a model city in respect to prohibition enforcement, his deaf rebuke of the admitted loose talking of Senator Howell and a set of figures from Detroit which indicate that the government is winning the war against smuggling at that point, are simultaneous indications of prohibition progress interesting to a nation the majority of whose citizens join with Hoover in wishing that this great social experiment may succeed. In his White House statement the President makes a direct challenge to the critics, both those who are well meaning and sincere but impatient of the arrival of the millennium and those who voice unsupported opinion for its political effect.

In which category Senator Howell belongs cannot be judged upon the evidence at hand, but his replying statement makes for him a rather poor case. His assertion is that when he spoke of Washington as being very wet he was referring principally to embassy liquor. To that the obvious answer is that he should have been more specific in his original speech. He also declares it is common knowledge that bootleggers are plying their trade freely in the city, but that he has no first-hand knowledge of the fact. This is equivalent to an admission that he repeated, without sufficient qualification, hearsay or gossip. It would be unfair to pick out Senator Howell and call him a scandalmonger when so many thousands of others, including a large proportion of the Senators, have done the same thing, but it is fair to point out, as President Hoover has done, that reflections on the honesty and zeal of public officials ought to have a substantial basis.

As to embassy liquor, the legal questions involved are subject to various interpretations and have not been ruled upon with any clarity by the courts. In view of this fact, it is not possible with the state unequivocally that foreign diplomats either may, or may not, obtain liquor supplies lawfully. Senator Howell's attempts to settle a delicate matter of hand are blundering, and

"Who, pray, is Reppos Lesneh?"
"One woman with the courage of her convictions," thought the alarmed reader. But, daringly, she said:

Prismatic Reader's Most Dramatic Moment

"Is it possible you don't know who Reppos Lesneh is?"

It was a tame moment. But the reader looked so assured and confident that several other women began to murmur, "Why, of course!" "Everyone knows," and things like that. And the lady with the lorgnette looked abashed and said no more.

The reading progressed and was what, in the chaste English sometimes employed by persons who do not belong to the Friday Morning Club, is called a knockout.

This bit of history is interesting just now because when the Friday Morning Club begins its autumn sessions on October 4 the opening program will be dramatic readings by Gretchen Hensel and Copper. But this year the plays of this Los Angeles woman will be given as her own, being no longer—if ever—necessary.

Which, we think, shows there is a good deal of sportsmanship in the Friday Morning Club.

World Growing Better

Women's styles are said to revolve in cycles, but the Banning Record reassures us with these comments:

"Bustles can never come back. Their use would create serious traffic congestion. Imagine a crowd of women busting around the Los Angeles streets just before Christmas! And that is that handsome structure over there?"

The answer is likely to be "The Woman's Club." If it weren't for the women's clubs, most of the men's organizations in our smaller cities wouldn't have any place to meet. And usually the women's clubs make good revenue by feeding the brutes at their weekly luncheons, too.

But the arrangement is changing the tenor of man's speeches. The other day we were in Agua, which is chiefly notable for its civic center, its woman's clubhouse, its orange packing plant and the San Gabriel dam.

We drove out with L. B. Y., expecting to hear a speech on the dam, but found he and we were killed as the speakers on a voluntary program. "Oh, that's all right," he said. "You tell 'em the old darky story and I'll tell 'em the one about the town which gained no population." But, to our amaze, when he was called on by President Griffith he spoke not a word—just bowed. Then we were introduced and went right ahead with the old darky story, which has a cuss word in it. Being near-sighted, we hadn't noticed that all the members of the woman's club, who had served us luncheon, were grouped about the kitchen door, listening in on all the improper words we said!

The Irresponsible Fanatic

*Did quiet rule the Olympic sector
When Juge gave Judo food, and ne'er?*

*Let's hear the should come back once too often
The plumber's tools go in his coffin.*

Fears resign in considerable numbers and it is obviously necessary to find means of retaining enough of them to go on with. The Navy is not a skeleton force and cannot well be skeletonized, training being relatively more important to efficiency than in the Army; besides, the Navy is the first line of defense. The retention both of its officers and men is highly important.

Of course the passing of officers to civil life does not mean they are entirely lost to the service, since in an emergency most of them would respond at once.

THE SHORT WEEK

The bakers' union is agitating for a five-day week. They figure that people don't use anything but gasoline on Saturday and Sunday and that their services are not needed.

THE TURTLE

By James J. Montague

The turtle either can't abide Upon the shore or in the tide Because of nature's kindly plan The turtle is amphibian.

Moreover the crustacean dome He carries with him is his home,

And when he slowly strolls about He's always in and never out.

Assailed by brutes with purpose fell He simply goes inside his shell

And smiles to see their efforts crude To pry him out of there for food.

The turtle has but little brain, But that occasions him no pain.

He knows he'll live for many a year— A fact which fills his heart with cheer.

And dwells in two elements Must compensate for lack of sense.

Devoid of fear and free from strife The turtle leads an ideal life.

And it is sad that I and you Cannot, alas, be turtles too.

LEE SIDE O' LA

by Lee Shippey

A FEW years ago a gracious young woman named Gretchen Hensel Copper was on the program of the Friday Morning Club to give a group of dramatic interpretations. Several of the plays she was to read, the program said, were by Reppos Lesneh, which sounded foreign enough to interest the club; but, to let you in on a secret, if you'll read Mrs. Copper's last two names you'll discover who Reppos Lesneh was. She had thought it would look audacious for one so comparatively untried to read her own plays, so she had chosen a disguise she believed would create more interest, especially as she was a westerner born and reared—and probably she was right. But naturally she was nervous.

She was wondering what she should do if anyone detected her deception when one of the stately ladies of that club of stately ladies lifted a lorgnette, gassed on her with an air of aristocratic command, and asked:

"Who, pray, is Reppos Lesneh?"

"One woman with the courage of her convictions," thought the alarmed reader. But, daringly, she said:

Art in Business

We have never been in the offices of the Spring-street Guaranty Building and Loan Association either to borrow money or make a deposit, but we do drop in occasionally when passing that way just to look at the wall panels; and it would be worth the time of anyone passing there to take a look at those panels, which strike exceptionally what might be called the new note in business, the setting which makes one forget the effect once accentuated by cold and forbidding window gratings and counters and thou-shalt-not-pass railings. The pictures, by Dinar Petersen, tell the story of Aladdin's lamp and romance, and make the place seem more like an art gallery than a business house.

We heartily approve of such recognition of art and encouragement of artists by financial institutions. We hope the idea grows until some bank has a series of our poems inscribed on its walls. Then maybe we can raise a few dollars to put into it. With sculptors making road signs and artists decorating business houses, who'll be the first to encourage poets?

Women's Clubs for Men

In many a thriving town in Southern California you may ask in vain for the Rotary Club Building, the Lions Building or any other such building, but when you ask, "What is that handsome structure over there?" the answer is likely to be "The Woman's Club." If it weren't for the women's clubs, most of the men's organizations in our smaller cities wouldn't have any place to meet. And usually the women's clubs make good revenue by feeding the brutes at their weekly luncheons, too.

ZIPPY PROGRAM ON AIR TONIGHT*KHJ Will Endeavor to Set Broadcast Speed Mark*All Numbers to be Rendered as Rapidly as Possible*Gain Reported in School Use of Radio Equipment

Given fair weather with no static, Station KHJ tonight will endeavor to give the fastest program ever attempted. According to their announcement, they plan to make wend notes chase themselves around the studio walls in keeping with the thought of the program to typify the speed of modern American life. Every number is to be played or sung as rapidly as is possible without destroying the music. A special happy novelty on the organ will be followed by eight music from an orchestra and a band.

Blake Reynolds is to do the fastest saxophone solo he can play and Gene Byrnes will do a comedy number. Eddie Rabbitt, who has been well known for several days on a song, so the words will not be failing over each other in the race against time. Howard Griffin, violinist, is to do a "perpetual-motion" solo, and altogether the radio has promised entertainment that will have heartbeats racing for breath when the half-hour is over at 8 o'clock.

RADIO IN SCHOOLS

According to a Washington dispatch yesterday, the advisory committee on radio education recently appointed by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur has declared that more than a score of schools throughout the country began their fall term this year with radio apparatus for the distribution of education programs to the various classrooms. The committee indicated that in the near future some sixty or seventy additional schools will be equipped with radio facilities.

School authorities are watching closely this new adjunct to teaching, with a view to applying it to the regular curriculum. Experimental work has been under way for several years, but until recently was confined largely to colleges and universities which have broadcast instructional lectures. Several cities, however, have experimented more or less with the use of radio in public schools. The series of educational music programs under the direction of Walter Damrosch, which was broadcast last year, provided a timely impetus to the work.

NEW STATION IN PERU

American engineers have arrived in Peru and commenced work on the erection of a radio telephone station in the suburbs of Lima, which is scheduled for completion before December 1, next, according to a report to Washington from Consul George A. Makinson. Authorization for the installation of radiotelephone and telegraph stations for

GABOR ACCUSED IN INDICTMENT*Suspect in Impersonations Faces Federal Charge*Ten Other Persons Named in Grand Jury Action*Passing Counterfeit Coins Among Accusations

In nine true bills returned by the Federal grand jury, eleven persons, including George Robert Gabor, asserted debonair young man who is impersonator of prominent persons, were indicted yesterday by the government body. Gabor, who is said to have represented himself at different times as Taft, Thew Houghton, son of A. B. Houghton, former Ambassador from the United States to England; as Baron Von Kropf, son of the famous German steel magnate; and as Lewis L. Wadsworth, aviator, was charged with impersonating a government officer.

Alfred Kelly and Harry Shifflet were charged in one indictment with passing counterfeit coins and Floyd L. Carpenter was indicted in another true bill on the same charge. Bail for each was fixed at $3,500.

John W. McMurry was accused of raising a government note. Jack R. Crawford was accused of assault upon a Federal customs officer at San Ysidro.

Worth Townsend was accused of counterfeiting a postal money order.

Other persons were charged with violations of the national prohibition act and the Harrison Narcotic Act.

He Paid Gas Bill for Other Woman

Testimony to the effect that her husband would fly into fits of rage over trivial things and that on one occasion she learned he was paying the gas bill of another woman, the woman was Mrs. Luis Wood, separate maintenance from Lee Wood. The wife was allowed $100 a month for a year by Superior Judge Guerin.

Two daughters of the plaintiff, the late Mrs. and Mr. Wood, testified in behalf of their mother. They said they had seen their father strike their mother.

The couple married twenty-three years ago, according to the complaint filed for Mrs. Wood by attorney S. S. Hahn.

STOCK SHOW SLATED FOR NEW ENTRY*Devon Cattle, Oldest of Registered Breeds, to be on Exhibition Here

Devon cattle, regarded as the oldest registered breed in the world, will be among the special feature exhibits, it was announced yesterday at the fourth annual Christmas Live-Stock Show to be held at the Los Angeles Union Stock Yards, November 30 to December 7, 1929. The entry will represent previously exhibited herds of the Hereford, Aberdeen, Angus and Shorthorn breeds.

Facilities for handling the show this year, it is announced, have been greatly improved, and it is expected that there will be entries than in any previous year. In addition to the beef cattle, there will be divisions for swine and sheep, and a special department for horses and mules. Cash premiums will be offered for the winning exhibits.

The executive committee in charge of the show consists of J. A. McNaughton, Harry Chandler, Frank G. Munzer, F. H. O'Neill, T. J. Murphy, R. A. Conder and William Edwards. Premium lists may be obtained from the superintendent of the Los Angeles Union Stock Yards.

Giulio Donetti Burial Today

Funeral services for Giulio Donetti, monument designer, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today at the parlors of Godeau and Martimoni, 625 West Washington street. The services will be followed by cremation at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale.

Mr. Donetti died Tuesday morning at his home, 1342 Maycrest avenue, after a lingering illness. He was the son of a limestone mason who died in 1911. He was twenty-eight years ago from his native city of Piedmont, Italy, and settled in Los Angeles in 1914, establishing a place of business at 2815 Whittier Boulevard.

He leaves his widow, Rosa, and a stepdaughter, Theresa.

TROJAN MAN WILL SPEAK

Dr. G. Vernon Bennett, professor of education at the University of Southern California, today will discuss the Trojan legend at a luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club of San Gabriel at Oaks Tavern. Chairman of the vocational guidance committee of Kiwanis Division No. 3, Dr. Bennett has just completed a survey of the McKinley Home in San Fernando Valley.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS WILL HOLD RALLY

Ceremonial Gown

Several thousand Camp Fire Girls will assemble at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at Occidental College Hillside Theater for the fourth annual grand ceremonial of Los Angeles Council. All Southern California groups from San Diego to Bakersfield have been invited to join in this ceremonial. Los Angeles alone has a chapter of 1,000 girls.

All Camp Fire Girls participating will wear ceremonial robes. The fire will be lighted by a member striking flint and steel, following which an Indian legend and the Indian rain dance will be presented.

NEW SALESMAN DECISION GIVEN*Status of Commission and Salaried Men Similar*Court So Rules in Fight Over Retrial of Damage Suit*Employers Responsible for Actions in Either Case

A salesman, working for the interests of a company, is an employee of that company, even though his remuneration is in the form of commissions and not of salary. And the company is responsible for the acts of the salesman while in its employ, just as same as though the employee was on salary.

This was the decision of the Supreme Court, filed in the office of the court clerk, here yesterday, in an opinion rendered by Supreme Court Justice R. C. Ryan in the case of L. R. Ryan against J. W. Emerson Farrell, automobile salesman, and Edwards-Merritt Company, also dealers and employers of Farrell. All parties are residents of San Diego county.

CAUSE OF ACTION

The action grew out of an accident in which an automobile driven by Farrell struck Ryan's car on the highway between Pacific Beach and San Diego. Ryan brought suit for damages, naming both Farrell and the automobile dealers as defendants. The case was nonsuited on the ground that Ryan had failed to establish the relationship of employee and employer between Farrell and the Edwards-Merritt concern.

A new trial was granted and Edwards-Merritt Company appealed.

Farrell, however, had been a commission agent, he held the relationship of contractor and not an employee.

COURTS FINDINGS

In denying the appeal Justice Seawell held that Farrell, at the time of the accident, was returning from a visit to a prospective automobile buyer and was therefore on the premises of the Edwards-Merritt Company. The court further held that the latter was in fact the employer of Farrell and responsible under the law for his actions, even though the automobile Farrell was driving at the time of the accident was not owned by him and had been purchased from Edwards-Merritt Company on contract.

All the Justices concurred in the opinion denying the appeal and affirming the order for a new trial.

second - stringers were promoted to the Trojan varsity yesterday. Those elevated to the regular eleven were Clark Galloway, guard; Fred Phillips, outside halfback, and Garrett Arbelide, end.

These boys replaced J. S. S.
Marten and Tom Stepp, respec-

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (AP)—The

took on a new life today under encouraging rays of a warm sun.

The steady flow of custom-predictions that Jack Sharkey, the talkative tar,

and Tommy Loughran,
the expanded light-

Just two days mid-weather has season.

Confident that Loughran will not last beyond the sixth round, Sharkey finished his training today with a light session at the exercise room.

He is in fine shape after a six-month respite from the ring wars and will scale about 195 pounds.

Loughran merely loosened his muscles for the battle that must mark the turning point in a brilliant series of fights. The light-heavyweight king, who never minded
a challenger, can step into the front rank of pretenders to the vacant heavyweight throne by decisive victory over Sharkey. Defeat will push Tommy back to the ranks of the 175-pounders and the job of regaining the championship all over again.

In physical proportions, Sharkey will have a slight edge tomorrow night, including a pull in the weights of about ten pounds. Lough-ran hopes to balance the bar at 185 pounds, the greatest weight of his

Sept. 25. (P)—Playing

the game without knowledge of their manager, Miller,

in a New York hospital, the Yankees defeated the Red

Sox 11 to 10 in eleven innings.

Piggras rescued Frank

Nekola in the last three innings.

The start Nekola was opposed by Hobson, his pitcher

at Holy Cross a year ago.

Before the sixth inning

the players of both teams lined up in the plate and the spectators

had a minute of silent prayer.
